By plane

The international airport Praha-Ruzyně is 21km far from the IMG conference building. Travelling from the airport to the IMG conference centre you can use either public transport or taxi.

Public shuttle bus (line 119) travels approximately each 10 minutes from the airport to Dejvicka metro station. From Dejvicka you will take the train in direction Depo Hostivar and at Museum station you will chase the lines taking line C with direction Haje. You will leave the underground in station Kacerov where you will catch the bus line 114 heading to Ustavy Akademie Ved (terminal station). This station is just next to IMG conference centre. This journey takes approximately 60 minutes.

Taxis are departing both from Terminals 1 and 2. The operators guaranteed by the airport are AAA Radiotaxi and Radiocab Taxi. The one way travel to IMG conference centre will cost you about 700CZK.

By train

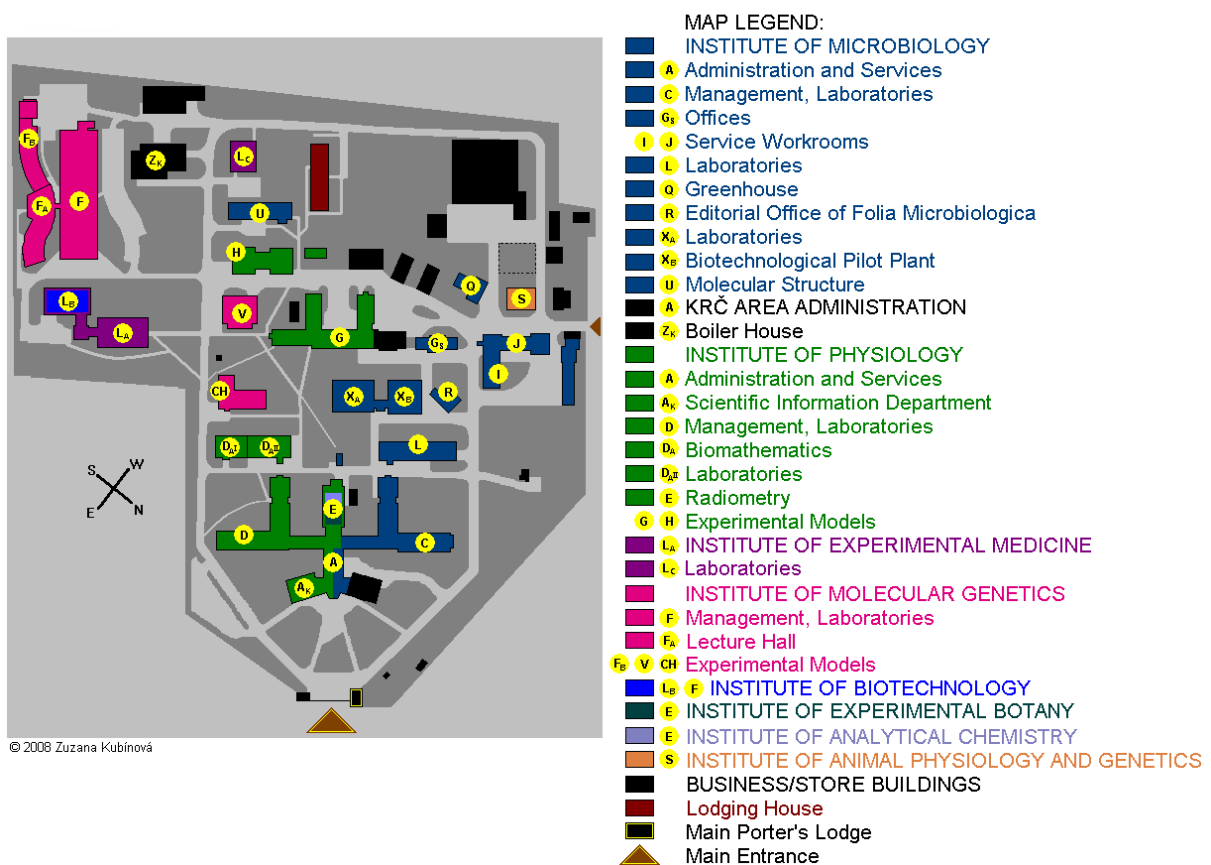

After arriving to Hlavni nadrazi (Prague main railway station) you will take the underground (located in the arrival hall) in direction Haje. You will leave the underground in station Kacerov where you will catch the bus line 114 heading to Ustavy Akademie Ved (terminal station). This station is just next to IMG conference centre. This journey takes approximately 25 minutes.

The price of taxi from Hlavni nadrazi to IMG conference centre should be approximately 350 CZK.
